

The diagram illustrates a vertical double-slit interference experiment. A light source S at the top emits light through two slits separated by a distance B . The light travels a distance D to a screen. The path difference between the two rays is labeled c .

Kegelige
Bohrung
Tapered bore