

A schematic diagram of a vertical assembly. It consists of two blue rectangular blocks, one at the top and one at the bottom. Each block contains two grey circular components. The top block's components are partially obscured by a white rectangular area. Dimension lines indicate: B is the width of the top block; D is the total height of the assembly; and c is the vertical distance between the centers of the two blocks.

Kegelige
Bohrung
Tapered bore