

The diagram illustrates a vertical double-slit interference experiment. A light source S at the top emits light through two slits separated by a distance B . The light travels a distance c to a screen at a distance D from the slits. The screen shows an interference pattern with a central maximum and two first-order maxima on either side.

Kegelige
Bohrung
Tapered bore