

Diagram illustrating a vertical double-slit interference experiment setup. A light source S is positioned at the top, emitting light that passes through two slits separated by distance B . The light then passes through a lens L and is observed at a distance D . The vertical distance from the slits to the lens is labeled c .

Kegelige
Bohrung
Tapered bore